Tip #1: Use your TCard to...

- tcardplus.utoronto.ca
- Copy, Print
- Borrow books, films, games, tech
- Get online access with UTORid
(books, articles, films, audio)
- Visit the gym
- Buy food and books

Tip #2: Find study space

- Quiet study spaces at many libraries
- 24-hour access at Robarts Library
- Computer availability online
- Group study rooms

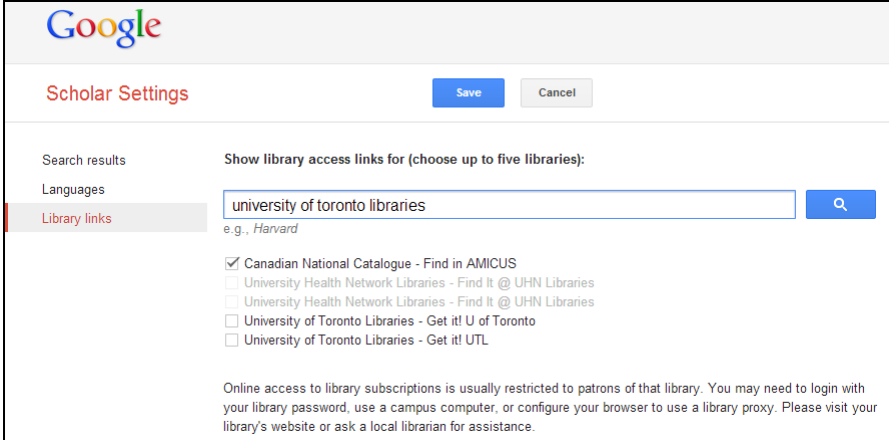

Tip #3: Never pay for articles

- Use the library website to find journal articles:
www.library.utoronto.ca

- If using Google Scholar...

<https://onesearch.library.utoronto.ca/linkit/google-scholar>

- Go to Settings - Library links – Choose ‘University of Toronto Libraries’

The screenshot shows the Google Scholar Settings page. At the top, the Google logo is visible. Below it, the title "Scholar Settings" is displayed with "Save" and "Cancel" buttons. The page is divided into two main sections: "Search results" and "Library links". The "Library links" section is currently active and shows a search box with the text "university of toronto libraries" and a magnifying glass icon. Below the search box, there is a list of library options with checkboxes. The first option, "Canadian National Catalogue - Find in AMICUS", is checked. Other options include "University Health Network Libraries - Find it @ UHN Libraries" (two instances) and "University of Toronto Libraries - Get it! U of Toronto" (two instances). At the bottom of the page, there is a disclaimer: "Online access to library subscriptions is usually restricted to patrons of that library. You may need to login with your library password, use a campus computer, or configure your browser to use a library proxy. Please visit your library's website or ask a local librarian for assistance."

Tip #4: Borrow Books

- Borrow 50 items at once for 14 days
- Renew books if there is no hold
- Check Course Reserves for items that your instructor has 'reserved' for class readings
- Check out our eBooks collections!

Tip #5: Attend a library workshop

- Sign up for a library workshop from the library homepage that can help you with...
